Why Us?

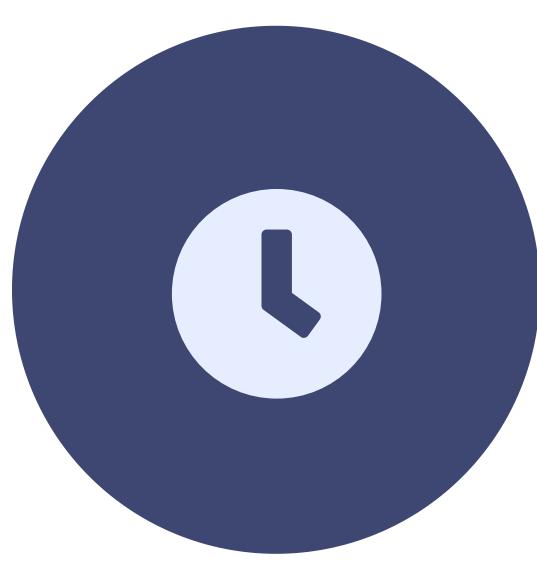

Excellent value and customer service. Having the work done your way. This is our business and this is how we endeavor to run it, each and every day.

We take pride in letting you know that all of our medical transcriptionists are extensively experienced in multiple medical specialties. They are also qualified CMTs (Certified Medical Transcriptionists) and they are well-trained to understand the medical language as well as the terminologies and also the importance of compliance with patients' health confidentiality and privacy as per APPs.

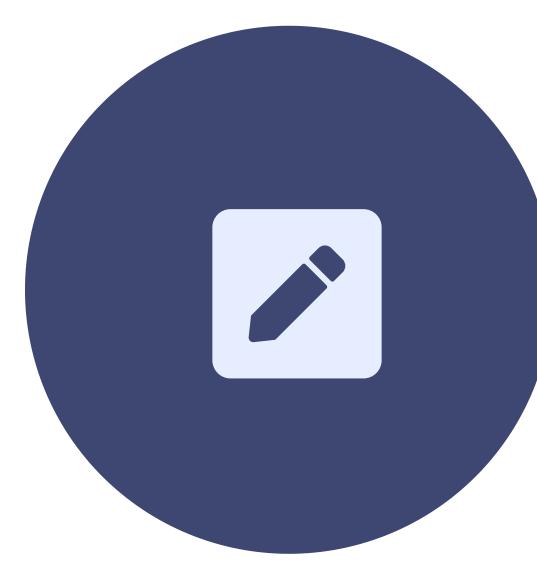

Rest assured, all the documentation are checked at three levels (Medical Typist, Editor and Quality Assurance Manager) before delivering the final end result to the dictator to review and signoff.

Convenience is the key to working on any job. Medical doctors and staff members have to be flexible most of the time. However, on days when patients are sitting in the lobby waiting to be seen, and time is of the essence, note dictation might take longer than usual to complete. With providing transcription services to MT Scribe, this task will no longer affect in-office productivity or patient care. When MT Scribe will become a permanent part of the practice, everyone wins. Patients get seen sooner and the medical staff is productive, less burden. New patient paperwork is submitted on time and doctors are not stressed with paperwork.

The biggest job of MT Scribe is the accuracy of recording what is said. Paying attention to details require an attentive ear. This is not a job for everyone. The simplest mistake can cost a medical practice to lose a valuable patient. Furthermore, it can also cause the practice to provide the wrong treatment plan for a patient. Therefore, medical practices should only provide their services to medical service providers they know and trust. We at MT Scribe provide all the benefits of comfort, convenience, and trust medical professionals need. Editing patients' files are a priority, when data entry notes need to be added to medical history files. In all, MT Scribe provides a hassle-free, stress-free working environment.
